Contingency Contracting Role-Playing Simulation

CON 234

BREAKING NEWS

LIVE

Russia, a longtime Syrian ally, promises to continue to veto any U.N. measures which could lead to international military intervention. With no help on the horizon, thousands of Syrians continue to stream across the border to Lebanon and Iraq, fleeing the violence and increasing instability.

OPERATION IRAQI STABILITY

You have a more detailed background in front of you. Read everything thoroughly and be here at 0800 tomorrow ready to award and manage contracts in support of JTF Alpha.

Homework: Exercise Preparation

- Read the Situation Summary to understand the contingency you will be supporting
  - Contingency background and geography
  - Deployed forces, command structure, and mission
  - Your role, responsibilities, and place in the overall contingency
- Come in tomorrow PREPARED TO ROLE PLAY
  - This Capstone Exercise will draw on concepts, tools, and techniques covered in the course to date
  - Review previous course materials and Defense Contingency Contracting Handbook

Tomorrow's Schedule

0815 – 0930	Government and contractors meet separately
0930 – 1345	Government and contractors meet together to negotiate
1345 – 1400	Teams finalize negotiations
1400 – 1430	Teams prepare After Exercise Report (AER) presentations
1445 – 1545	Teams deliver AER presentations, observers critique
1545 – 1600	Instructor review and closing remarks
1600 -	Teams work on graded case presentations
NOTE:	Teams have flexibility in scheduling their lunch and breaks.

After Exercise Report (AER)

- Government team (maximum of 10 min):
  - How did you determine your priorities, and what were they?
  - What were the final results of your negotiations?
  - What went well? What you would do differently next time?
- Contractors (maximum of 5 min):
  - How did you determine your priorities, and what were they?
  - How did the negotiations go from your point of view?
- Observers (maximum of 5 min):
  - What are your observations/assessment of the negotiations?

Roles

ROLE	Team 1 (B/O Rm 224)	Team 2 (B/O Rm 225)	Team 3 (B/O Rm 226)
DEP-J4
COCO
CCO East
CCO West
Contractor
Contractor
Observer			